RENEWAL OF TURCO- GREEK WAR THREAT MADE AT LAUZANNE

Lausanne, May 17.—A renewal of the Turco-Greek war, involving Serbia as an ally of Greece and Bulgaria as an ally of Turkey, is threatened. Such a Balkan conflagration, it is feared might precipitate another general European conflict.

The Greek delegate threatened to leave the Near East Peace Conference here tomorrow unless the Turks forego their claims of reparation and at the same time the Athens Government has threatened to send troops across the Maritsa River into territory held by the Turks.

According to a Turk Communiqué two Greek submarines attempted to approach the shores of Diksha; but were forced to withdraw. Officials of the British General Headquarters at Constantinople attempted to consider the situation.

HOUSE STILL FROM MISSOURI; ASKS LEWIS FOR FACTS

Harrisburg, Pa., May 17.—The House today passed a resolution calling upon Auditor General Lewis to furnish the Legislature with final information which might serve to clear up the existing revenue situation.

Under the terms of the resolution Lewis is asked to furnish information showing:

First: Probable revenue in the next two years.

Second: Apparent expenditures necessary under existing appropriation.

Third: Exact amount of inherited appropriation liabilities.

Fourth: Amount of these appropriations liabilities which could probably be lapsed.

The information which Lewis was called upon to furnish relates to the same subject included in Governor Pinch's budget, which was given to the Legislature several months ago.

The resolution was regarded here as the first step in straightening out the tangle.

PINCHOT SIGNS THE DUNN BONUS BILL FOR WAR VETERANS

Harrisburg, Pa., May 17.—Governor Pinchot today signed the Dunn Bill, providing for payment of compensation to Pennsylvania veterans of the world war who served 60 days or more.

The payments will be made if the $35,000,000 bond issue is passed by the voters of the state. The bill provides that payment shall be made through the adjutant general's department and that no payment shall exceed $200, payments to be based on not more than $10 per month of service.

Larchmont, N. Y. Woman Is Summoned To Tell Shedding Hazing Story

New York May 17.—District Attorney Benton announced that at the request of Chicago authorities he has summoned to his office for questioning Mrs. Kathleen Hotchkiss Lovensaid of Larchmont, N. Y., in connection with the Larchmont Mount case.

Mount, a Northwestern University student, was found dead after a long disappearance. It is supposed he was slain by hazing. Mrs. Lovensaid, District Attorney Crow of Chicago, believes, may be able to throw some light on the mystery.

READING SHOE FACTORY BURNS

Reading, Pa., May 17.—The Albright Reading Shoe Factory here was destroyed by fire early today with a estimated loss of one hundred thousand dollars. There was no insurance. Poor water supply was blamed for the rapid spread of the fire.

HARDING COMMITTED TO PROHIBITION BY LETTER TO MR. WAIT

Newburgh, N. Y., May 16.—Strict enforcement of the prohibition law throughout the United States will be the "unquestioned policy" of the Harding administration, and President Harding is convinced that it will be the attitude of succeeding administrations, according to a letter from the White House made public here today by Wesley Wait.

Wait had written to President Harding suggesting that Federal action be taken against Governor Smith of New York, and members of the Legislature who voted to repeal the state prohibition enforcement act, if it is signed by Governor Smith.

President Harding, in commenting upon action taken by various states against the Federal prohibition law, expressed fear of a conflict between federal authority and state rights.

The text of President Harding's letter follows:

"Pending the approval of the Cavalier bill by Governor Smith, this matter is hardly to be regarded as having reached the stage where any federal authority is called upon for a determination of national policies. With much of what you say I am fully in accord."

CHILD IS BORN TO WOMAN ACCUSED IN POISONING CASE

Newark, N. J., May 17.—A boy was born today to Mrs. Mary Creighton, who with her husband John, is under indictment on a charge of murdering her brother, Charles R. Avery. The birth occurred at the Newark City Hospital.

Next month the Creightons go on trial being accused of having fed arsenic in small doses to young Avery until he died in order to secure his insurance. The bodies of Creighton's parents have been exhumed and are being examined for traces of poison. Preliminary examination show that the elder Creightons did not die of causes cited in the death certificate.

NEW SCHEDULE OF MAIL TRAIN TO BE BIG IMPROVEMENT

The Pennsylvania Railroad, The Progress is informed very reliably intends to make a new train schedule which will be of great benefit to the business men of Clearfield who now have considerable difficulty in answering morning mail before the return of the afternoon mail train. The new schedule affects only the first train leaving Tyrone in the morning and the train now leaving here at 1:05 p.m. It will make a difference of fifty minutes more in the time of arrival of the mail and the time of departure of the afternoon train.

Instead of leaving Tyrone at 8:20 a.m. as at present, the train will leave at 8:05 a.m. It will not stop at any flag stations enroute, in fact be a fast train, and will arrive here at 10:00 a.m. The express train which follows the regular mail and passenger train will make all the flag stops.

The afternoon train for Tyrone will leave here at 1:23 p.m. instead of 1:05 as at present and will arrive in Tyrone in time to make all connections. This train will not make any flag stops either.

Only one stop will be made in Clearfield by either of these trains, according to present plans, and that at the regular depot. Other trains, including the express train will stop at Market street as heretofore and other flag stops as well.

DO NOT OVERLOOK THE COMMUNITY SING AND MUSIC TONIGHT

Although the weather is quite cool it is not going to deter a big percentage of the citizenry of Clearfield from full participation in the community Music Week program this evening back of and in the High School. Promptly at 7:15 o'clock the Legion Band will be on the job at the rear of the High School to furnish the music for the community sing which will be under the direction of Professor H. Clark Thayer, director of the band and head of the Susquehanna College of Music. Everybody knows what Mr. Thayer can get out of the band by the waving of his magic baton and no doubt he will be equally successful with the crowd of singers.

The program of the events in the High School, printed in The Progress yesterday, insures a big crowd for the indoor entertainment as every number is by an artist in his or her line and the assembling of such an aggregation of musicians is proof positive that only early comers can get a good seat.

Friday evening will wind up a most successful observation of Music Week with the presentation of the Glee Club play at the High School.

The Girls' Glee Club play, under direction of Mrs. Hopkins, comes off Friday evening. Be sure you have your seat reserved in plenty of time. "A Wild Rose" is a clever little opera you are sure to enjoy. Every number is interesting, you can't afford to miss a single one.

Some of the leading characters are: Beatrice McDowell, as Rose McCloud; Elizabeth Wilson as "Bobbie," the Butters; Mary Jane Overly as Mrs. Fussy, housekeeper for Rose; Louella Shedd as Madame Sewers, a French dressmaker. Many clever maids, beautiful debutantes—and a cat.

This play will be the final event of Music Week. Naturally you will not wish to miss it—especially if you have attended the other events thru-out the week.

All the roses used in the play were made by the girls of the Glee Club.

W.S. METHODISTS LET CONTRACT FOR BEAUTIFUL CHURCH

The building committee of the West Side Methodist church at a meeting called for the purpose last evening awarded the contract for the erection of their new church to Carl V. Hobaugh, of Butler, Pa. The contract calls for the completion of the church within one year.

The work of tearing down the old church will be begun next week and as soon as that is accomplished work on the handsome new structure will be started.

During the time the new church is being built church services will be held in a tabernacle to be erected by the West Side congregation, somewhere on Martin street in the vicinity of the church property.

The contract price for the erection of the church up to the plastering, but not including the plastering and all the finishing that follows is said to be $27,500 in round figures and the completed job will approximate $125,000.

CONTRACT TO BUILD MOOSE TEMPLE LET TO ERIE BUILDER

The Trustees of the local Loyal Order of Moose at a meeting held last evening awarded the contract for the erection of the new Moose Temple to Contractor Stanley M. Stadden, of Erie, Pa.

The new building, which is to be of red brick, steel and concrete and entirely fireproof, will be erected on the Moose lot on the south side of Market street just mid-way between Third and Fourth streets. The building will be two stories and basement and will be 70x100 feet in size.

The ground floor will provide a room for the Clearfield post office, which has already been leased for a ten-year period by the Postoffice Department, with a store room alongside. The second floor will contain offices, while the basement will house

GIRL GIVES A VIVID DESCRIPTION OF "KING" DAVID'S HAREM AND OF HOW WOMEN INMATES CRAVED HIS FAVORS

St. Josephs, Mich., May 17.—Benjamin Funnell, the man who would be King, reigned with regal pomp and splendor in Shiloh Palace in the House of David. The story of the life of this alleged twentieth century seraglio was given today by a twenty year old girl, Lavina Johnson Heiger, who said she had been a spotter and detective, reporting directly to Benjamin on discretions of his flock.

Surrounded by his harem of "virgins" and seven angels, which is being investigated by Judge Harry Binkeman, he lived a life of luxurious ease and splendor. Food was served on plates of gold. Rare liquors were poured to suit his foods and tastes in goblets encrusted with emeralds and rubies by young girl attendants. Trained hula hula dancers furnished entertainment at his bidding. His long gray beard was combed by a maid-in-waiting. His bath was prepared, his clothes carefully arranged and every want anticipated by the score of elect "sisters" who vied with each other for the honor of administering to the personal wants of the self-styled "Brother of Jesus Christ."

The King's rooms were furnished with rich tapestry, couches and divans. Valuable paintings were on the walls. "Benjamin seldom slept at night," Lavina said. "There was always a light in his room. He said he did his work then, prepared his prophecies. He slept in the day time. The spirits were abroad in the night and would inspire his work," he said.

Curwensville Nurse Is Again Decorated By French Government

By L. J. LAPORTE.

Curwensville, Pa., May 17.—That great nations are not unappreciative of good work and not forgetful of assistance was again proven last week when the French government conferred a much coveted decoration on Miss Mary E. Mallon of this town.

Miss Mallon is well known here where her parents reside and deserves all the credit that has been given her. Following is the article taken from the Washington "Evening Star" of an issue of last week from which we glean our information:

"Miss Mary E. Mallon of Curwensville, Pa., was decorated with the 'Medaille de la Reconnaissance Francaise' by M. Jules Jusserand, French ambassador at the French embassy, 4300 yesterday afternoon."

"Ambassador Jusserand eulogized the long and splendid service of Miss Mallon in France during the war, especially that of the training of the French nurses in the training school of the American hospital of Paris."

"Miss Mallon served five years in France. During 1915, she was assistant director of the American ambulance hospital in Neuilly, France. Later taking the position of superintendent of the American hospital of Paris, she occupied that position until 1921, when she returned to this country, and has since been in this city engaged in various nursing activities, chief of which is the 'Society for the Control of Cancer'."

"In 1917, Miss Mallon was decorated with the French 'Medaille d'Honneur' for work with the French at the American ambulance hospital."

"Among those present at the presentation of the decoration were former ambassador to France, Mr. Hugh Campbell Wallace, Mrs. Roger Woods Bliss, Lady Jebb, Baron and Baroness Korff, Admiral and Mrs. Van Ruyven, and Mrs. R. K. Tyler. Later in the evening Mrs. Bliss gave a dinner in honor of Miss Mallon."

No Clue To Man Who Shot Italian Store Man At Johnsonburg

No clue has been found as to the identity of the person who stepped out to within three feet of Frank Galenzio of Johnsonburg, and fired three shots into his body, inflicting wounds that will probably result fatally. The shooting occurred just as the evening train on the Pennsylvania pulled into Johnsonburg Tuesday night and the theory is advanced that the assailant jumped off the train as it slowed down ran over to where Galenzio was sitting before his store, fired the three shots, turned back to the train, boarded it and made away before any pursuit was organized.

"One of the shots struck Galenzio in the left hand, another broke the bone in his left arm, and the third entered the stomach, passing through the body."

There is no theory advanced as to the cause for the shooting.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kittelberger at their home in East End on Tuesday night last, a son.

Messrs. John and Emory Gearhart and Ed P. Dufton, of Clearfield, and Carl Patchin, of Burnside, are up in Potter county on a trout fishing excursion.

RADIO FANS WILL HAVE A CHANCE TO WIN PRIZES

Philadelphia, May 16.—Widespread interest has been created throughout Pennsylvania in the radio test to be made on the talk to be broadcasted by Charles M. DeForest or "Health Armor" from Chicago on Thursday night. It is the purpose to learn if this talk can be heard in every state in the country.

There is additional interest for Pennsylvanians because of the prizes of $25, $10 and $5 offered by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, 10 S. 13th street, Philadelphia, for the best reports from radio fans on this speech.

The talk will be broadcast from WDP Thursday night at 9:30 p. m. central standard time, or 10:30 p. m. eastern standard time, or 11:30 p. m. eastern daylight saving time. The text to be submitted in this test must be mailed within 24 hours after the broadcasting.

A preliminary musical program from WDP beginning at 10 p. m. eastern standard time, will give operators a chance to tune in.

Fans can assist in this all-state test by notifying their newspapers of the results they secure.

Dr. Thomas E. Finigan, state superintendent of Public Instructions, in accepting a place on the committee of judges says:

"I shall be glad to be of any service possible in connection with the radio contest which is in the interest of better health among our children."

C. D. Of A. Third Annual Banquet A Pronounced Success In Every Way

The third annual banquet of Clearfield court "Catholic Daughters" of America, held at the Dimeling hotel last evening, was a pronounced success in every way. The large dining room was taxed to capacity by the members and their guests present.

Mrs. John E. Mulrooney, grand regent of the court, proved to be a capable hostess and handled the after dinner program in a most acceptable manner.

The following highly interesting program was carried through to a successful conclusion:

ABIDING PEACE IS ASSURED SAYS SEC'TY HUGHES IN ADDRESS AT WASHINGTON LAST EVENING; ALL CLOUDS ROLL AWAY

Washington, May 16.—America has "every assurance of abiding peace" so far as "our relations with other people are concerned," Secretary Hughes said tonight in an address before the National Conference of Social Work.

"The clouds which two years ago darkened the Far Eastern sky have dissipated," he said "and to the disappointment of those who make bitterness the part of patriotism we have been able to associate the great powers of the Pacific in a friendly accord, supported by mutual confidence, while at the same time we have carefully preserved the sound American tradition of freedom from our alliance and the principle of equality of opportunity."

Mr. Hughes said this had been accomplished by keeping "a disarmament of thought" and that the Washington arms conference had "managed to scrap distrust as well as the vessels of war," and to end wasteful pacification, "which spoils not security but suspicion."

"Today notwithstanding the gravity of unsettled issues," he continued, "we find throughout the world ample reasons for encouragement in the efforts to remove the economic evils following the great war in the exhibition of enhanced industrial capacity,"

LUCAS NOT GUILTY BUT MUST PAY THE PROSECUTION COST

The jury which heard the evidence in the case of Com. vs. Wendell Lucas charged with involuntary man slaughter, was charged by Judge Bell and retired to take up their deliberations at 10 o'clock this morning. They returned their verdict shortly before noon today which found the defendant not guilty but directed that he must pay the costs in the case.

Fourth Ward Pupils To Shine Tomorrow Night In Music Presentation

The Fourth Ward School will add its contribution to Music Week by giving what promises to be a splendid program at the Fourth Ward school building Friday afternoon.

The program should prove to be more than ordinarily interesting and attractive. Therefore if you have a child in the school or are a friend or lover of children you should be there you will enjoy every minute.

The numbers to be given are all taken from the Nollis Dunn song books and are songs the kiddies have learned throughout the year. Each grade will be represented and those who attend will be privileged to listen to some of the prettiest songs ever published for children's voices.

Following is the program:

PART I

Chorus: "The Postman"
"The Seed Baby"

Solo: "Little Daffy Down Dilly"

Jake Lippert, Man Manon Dimmick Very Seriously Injured and May Lose Limb

ALL EIGHT INJURED

One of the most serious railroad accidents to occur in this section in recent months happened shortly after 8 o'clock this morning on the 1900 York Central railroad in the deep cut at the "Y" at the junction at Clearfield Creek.

As a result thereof, six members of the section crew of Foreman Joseph Augustine, out of Dimmick station, are patients at the Clearfield hospital suffering from injuries of various degrees, while the other three also suffered minor injuries but did not come to the hospital.

The names of the injured men are: Jake Lippert, aged 32.
Tony Cappodano, aged 28.
Tony George, Jr., aged 37.
Eugene Caruso, aged 28.
Edward Hamey, aged 19.
Preston Hamey, aged 19.

This morning Section Foreman Augustine and nine men, left Clearfield on a gasoline railroad motor on their way down the line to the Junction, where track repairs required their attention. They reached the cut at the "Y" traveling at a fair rate of speed and as they were about half way through the cut the work train out of Clearfield happened along heading up through the cut to negotiate the "Y". The engine was at the rear of the work train and as the front end of the work train rounded the curve at the cut it crashed right into the motor car, which was heading a flat on which the men were riding.

The men of the section crew were unable to see the train backing toward them until it was right upon them and while two or three men on the motor were able to jump before the two cars struck, those on the flat car in the rear of the motor did not have time enough to do so and were caught in the wreckage as the cars smashed together.

Wounded from the hospital this afternoon is to the effect that Lippert is the only one of the men seriously hurt. He has a serious head wound and a badly crushed and broken leg, which it is thought will have to be amputated. The injuries of the others consist of minor cuts and bruises and they will soon be able to leave the hospital.

Theodore Hamey, Harvey Hens and Samuel Olson, with Foreman Augustine, were the other men of the crew. The foreman had left the motor a short distance above the point where the wreck occurred.

Much Speculation On Cause Of Breaking Of Society Engagement

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The wreck of a romance between a young beautiful capital society maid and a British naval officer had Washington society buzzing today with speculation and gossip.

Miss Nancy Hoyt, the bride to be, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hoyt, was reported at her parents' home under the care of a physician. Lieutenant F. Wiseman-Clark of the Royal Navy said his parents were in New York preparing to sail back to England.

The wedding was to have occurred last night. Many of the guests had come from great distances and the Hoyt home on Rhode Island avenue was very beautifully decorated and workmen were putting up awnings from the street to the house to protect guests from threatening showers when the wedding was called off.

Lincoln's Attitude.

"Mr. Lincoln said at the time when slavery was still a recognized, established and accepted institution" throughout a considerable part of the Union that the nation could not exist half slave and half free.

"That expression has been accepted ever since as presenting the obvious and conclusive logic of the situation which then confronted the Union.

"Certainly it would have been still more impressive if there had been at that time a constitutional provision against slavery as there is now a constitutional provision against the liquor traffic.

"The nation has deliberately, after many years of consideration, adopted the present policy, which is written into the Eighteenth Amendment. It is the law of the land and of every state within the Union. So long as it remains the national policy, there can be only one course for the national government to pursue.

"That is to use every means to make effective the law passed in compliance with this constitutional mandate.

Sword to Enforcement.

"To do this will be the unquestioning policy of the present administration, and I may add that I am firmly convinced that it must be the policy of other administrations that shall come hereafter.

"The Executive of the nation and equally the executives of the states are sworn to enforce the Constitution. It is difficult to believe that public approval will ever be given to any other than a policy of fully and literally discharging this duty.

"It does not seem fitting, however, to enter upon a discussion of a situation which has not yet arisen. It will be obvious that many complex and extremely difficult situations must arise if any of the states shall decline to assume their part of the responsibility of maintaining the Constitution and the laws enacted in pursuance of it.

"The states are equipped with police organizations and judicial establishments adequate to deal with such problems. The Federal government is not thus equipped.

"I venture that if by reason of the refusal or failure of any state to discharge its proper duty in such connection, the Federal government is at length compelled to enter upon the territory and jurisdiction of the state and to set up those police and judicial authorities which would be required, the most difficult and trying situations would arise.

"More or less conflict between state and federal authorities would seem unavoidable in such circumstances. The impression would be created that the Federal government was assuming to interfere with the functions of the states and the distressing results that would ensue readily suggest themselves."

OBITUARY

Boyd Lester Smith, son of Mrs. Lizzie Smith, died at his home in Glen Ridge April 28. The deceased was born Aug. 31, 1898 and spent all his life in this vicinity. He had been failing in health for the past year. He was a member of the Baptist church and possessed a large circle of friends. He is survived by his widowed mother, one brother, P. D. Smith, and one sister, Mrs. John Evans, both of Glen Ridge. Funeral services were held from his home, Rev. Conely of Curwensville, officiating, interment in Thompson cemetery.

THE BOY THAT FAILED

FATHER had planned a brilliant future for him. Mother's high hopes for his success were supported ably by her excellent fastidious.

But the boy was a bitter disappointment. He was being educated steadily by his schoolmaster, was dull, listless at the time, "fat sick" most of the time, never had "pe" for play nor ambition for his future.

Father had about given himself up. Poor mother's heartstrings were near the breaking point. Evidently, it was not to be.

Then an old friend of the family—a man successful in every way—came to the boy's rescue. "The father is proud of the boy who is a dead joy to his mother."

I was simply a case of great digestion, sluggish liver and intestinal gradually during childhood and poisoning the system.

Knowing from experience that Benjamin's Pills were harmless as well as efficient, I tried them. They made the bowels regular. They made the liver well—as they have been of other children, and grown-ups, too, who suffered from like disorders.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. G.

The Legislature at Harrisburg and Governor Pinchot appear to be having a "monkey and parrot" time endeavoring to raise funds enough by the taxation route to keep the old Keystone ship of state off the rocks of bankruptcy the coming two years. Everytime some law maker "has it an idea" and selects some particular line of business or product from which to enact tribute toward the common end, representatives of the business or line affected immediately get up on their hind legs and howl out, "Don't tax us. We are paying too much now; hit the other fellow."

Therefore when a local gentleman who keeps his eye on affairs hands us the following tearful appeals which he "swears" he found in an envelop addressed, but neither stamped or mailed, to old Giffy, we feel like giving them publicity as sort of direction to old Diogenes and his search for that "honest" farmer.

Read what these virtuous fellows have to tell the Governor:—
Dear Governor:

As a farmer, I wish to make a protest against the treatment of the farmer in Pennsylvania. Are not the farmers good citizens? Why treat us as if we were weaklings and unable to assume our share of the burden of citizenship?

It is necessary for Pennsylvania to raise an additional twenty million dollars by taxation, for the schools. I understand that a large part of this money will go to the rural schools, yet no one at Harrisburg has had the decency to suggest that we farmers be allowed to contribute a share of his money. We have a part in shaping legislation; we like to choose officers, and to direct policies, and therefore, we demand the right to pay more taxes. The farmers are just as able to perform the duties of citizenship as the manufacturers or the coal operators. We are tired of being spoken of as if we should be spared the burdens, just like children.

Tax wheat or corn or potatoes or any other farm product—but tax us. We will pass it on to the consumer. Permit us to do more toward the support of government, so that we will not feel so much as if we were imposing on others.

Yours for more taxes,
HIRAM HAYCROFT
That first letter is bad enough but this one is even worse:—

Dear Governor:

I am a Coal Operator and I have a rather large business. The legislature at Harrisburg is trying to find some means of raising an additional twenty million dollars by taxation. There has been no decision yet as to who will pay the tax. The farmers claim it is their right to do so because they feel that they have been slighted in their respect in the past. The manufacturers maintain a lobby at Harrisburg working toward an increase in their own taxes. In fact, all interests are insisting that they be allowed to assume this additional burden. This is all very well and goes credit to their good citizenship, but who is going to see that the coal operators get their rights? If there are more taxes to pay, I, as a coal operator, insist on my right to pay my share. The automobile owners are trying to work themselves into position of paying almost the entire increase, and it is time for the rest of us to protest. Why let these upstarts assume all the credit for being good tax paying citizens?

I am writing this letter because I know that if the coal operators do not make a kick and a vigorous one, they will be passed by entirely and all the taxes will be assumed by these self-seeking, political wire-pullers who would like to contribute more than their fellow-man to the expense of government.

Yours for more taxes

Entered in Post Office at Clearfield, Pa., as second class mail matter.

The Governor and the members of the House of Representatives were very generous to the ex-service men in voting the bonus. But the bonus can not yet be paid. The funds are not available. The action of the legislature in passing the bill and the Governor's signature will simply provide the machinery for paying the bonus in case the citizens of the State approve the $35,000,000 bond issue to be voted on at an election. Meantime, every fellow who voted for this bill, can go before the service man with a clear record.

The West Side Methodists and the Moose seem to have the real spirit of Clearfield. When organizations in other towns are holding off on expansion and development these organizations go right ahead with plans of a gigantic size, considering their financial strength. Together they will spend over a quarter of a million dollars.

STILL IN THE UNION

President Harding has written a letter that will make Americans think. He points out the perils in such acts as the proposed repeal of New York's State prohibition laws and reminds that State that it still is a part of the American Union.

The letter may, of course, have its political angles. Governor Smith, of New York, is a powerful figure in the Democratic Party, one of the hopes of the wet Democrats and beloved of wets everywhere. He is accounted presidential timber. President Harding suddenly has swung the White House spotlight on him. From the Republican viewpoint it might not be at all a bad thing to gum the rum label on an outstanding Democrat and on the Democratic Party as the champion of booze.

Putting aside, however, possible political considerations, the Harding letter states a case and draws an issue simply, bluntly and firmly. New York's Legislature has voted that the State need not enforce prohibition.

The people of the United States, of which New York is a part, have decreed liquor shall go. In essence, we have the State's rights issue of sixty years ago over again.

The Eighteenth Amendment is a part of our organic law, for better or for worse. The people and the Governor of the State of New York are reminded that, after years of consideration and by deliberate act, "the present policy was written into the Eighteenth Amendment." It has become "the law of the land and of every State within the Union." That it will be enforced in New York, and even New York City, is the President's pledge, for he says:

So long as it remains the national policy there can be only one course for the National Government to pursue. That is, to use every means to make effective the law passed in compliance with this constitutional mandate. To do this will be the unquestioning policy of the present Administration.

The President fears a conflict of authority between State and Federal officials, and these fears are not ill-grounded. But he is on firm ground when he says:

The Executive of the Nation and equally the Executives of the States are sworn to enforce the Constitution.

The oath-taker cannot swear partial support to the Constitution. The Eighteenth Amendment is one of its parts. It must be all or nothing, else the swearer is a man forsworn.

started, throaty cry—a hoarse sound of astonishment and surprise and simultaneously a strange, a phenomenal thing occurred. An unseen hand appeared to strike down both Mallow and his accomplice where they stood, and it smote them, moreover, with appalling force and terrifying effect.

The men understood vaguely what had afflicted them, for they had seen Gray lift one hand from the wheel, and out of that hand they had seen a stream of liquid, or a jet of aqueous vapor, leap.

Gray squeezed again the rubber bulb that he had carried in his hand these last several miles, ejecting from it the last few drops of its contents, then he opened the car door, stepped out of it and stood over his straggling victims.

Gray fell to work promptly. The little of cream he had begged from Ma Briskow he now put to use. With this soothing liquid he first washed out their eyes, the membranes of which were raw and spongy, and, scrupulously sensitive to light, then he bandaged them as best he could with compressed, wet lint.

"You'll breathe easier as time goes on," he announced. "You'll cough a good deal for a few days, but where you are going that won't hurt anybody. Your eyes will get well, too, if you take care of them as directed. But, meanwhile, let me warn you against lifting those bandages. Advise me as they dry out and I'll tell them again."

A blessed relief stole over the unfortunate pair; they were still sick and weak, but in a short time the acuteness of their suffering had diminished sufficiently for Gray to help them into the back seat of his car and resume his journey.

Within a few minutes of Gray's arrival at Briskow's town was not with the story, for he drove down the brightly lighted main street and stopped in front of the most populous cafe. There he called loudly for a policeman, and when the latter elbowed his way through the crowd, Gray told him in plain language of all that had happened. He begged him to call a doctor and to see that the two men were taken care of.

Nothing like this had occurred during the brief, busy life of the town. It was a dramatic incident, but the manner in which this capable stranger had handled it and the assistance he had brought to the town, had won for him the respect and admiration of the high-jackers; crime for vengeance upon them were drowned in noisy appreciation of their captor.

CHAPTER VII

Miss Good Plays Angel

COVERLY was at the station when Gray's train arrived at Dallas the next morning. He was suffering intense excitement, and he deluged his friend with flood of questions, meanwhile, fearful of the morning papers, all of which appeared to have devoted much space to the Ranger episode. He begged Gray, and he pumped his hand, he laughed and he chattered; he insisted upon hearing the whole story without delay. On their way uptown, the returning hero gave it to him, together with Gus Briskow's check.

"Speaking of your commissions, how am I going to pay you—not for the sale you made, although I wouldn't have done as well, but for the loss you saved the firm and for the risk you ran?"

"You may give me anything you see fit," Gray declared, "and I shall not embarrass you by refusing. On the contrary, go as strongly as you possibly can."

Coverly actually appeared to be relieved at this statement, but he inquired, curiously: "Why have you got up your sleeve? You don't need money."

"Obviously not. But I know a needy object of charity; a worthy case, I assure you. I can scarcely call him a friend, but he is still an agreeable companion—a man at once capable, extravagant, entertaining, dissipated. Your money shall go to him, and with every dollar of it that he squanders, there shall arise an earnest oration to you."

Would-be nullificationists have that to consider if their oaths mean anything to them.

Whether or not a State has an enforcement act, the will of Congress, by authority of the Constitution, runs across State lines and may not be defied. Refusal to enact concurrent legislation fringes upon nullification. Nullification amounts to passive defiance. That is something for Governor Smith to think about as he ponders, To sign or not to sign. It is something for the Pennsylvania legislators, who have refused to appropriate money to make enforcement law effective, to consider.

Whatever side angles and portents the President's letter may have, it drags some naked facts and ugly possibilities into the daylight.—Public Ledger.

ORDINANCE NO. 38 OF WESTOVER BOROUGH

Authorizing the Penn Public Service Corporation, its successors, lessees or assigns to construct, replace and maintain poles, wires and fixtures in the public streets, alleys and places of the Borough of Westover, Clearfield County, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of distributing electrical energy.

BE IT ENACTED AND ORDAINED by the Burgess and Borough Council of the Borough of Westover and it is hereby enacted and ordained by the authority of the same.

SECTION 1: That the privilege be and is hereby granted to the Penn Public Service Corporation, its successors, lessees or assigns, (hereinafter called GRANTEE), to construct, replace and maintain such poles, wires and fixtures upon, over, through, along and across the public streets, alleys and places of the said Borough, as may be necessary for the purpose of transmitting and distributing electrical energy in and through said Borough for any purpose for which it may be now or hereafter used.

SECTION 2: That all poles erected under the provisions of this ordinance shall be reasonably straight and erected at locations designated by proper officers of said Borough. That all cross arms for the suspension of wires shall be placed not less than twenty (20) feet above the grade of the street, except by permission of the Borough.

SECTION 3: That when the public streets, alleys and places of said Borough are used for the erection of poles, wires and fixtures under the provisions of this ordinance where where disturbed shall be replaced by GRANTEE in as nearly as practicable disturbed shall be replaced by erection thereon of said poles, wires and fixtures.

SECTION 4: That GRANTEE shall be ready to furnish electrical energy in said Borough on or before July 1st, 1923.

SECTION 5: That GRANTEE shall keep and hold said Borough free and harmless from all damages that may arise out of injury to person or property due to the default, carelessness or negligence of GRANTEE in the exercise of this grant, provided GRANTEE shall have the right to defend all suits against said Borough arising therefrom and shall not be liable for any judgment unless due notice of the action and opportunity to defend same shall have been given GRANTEE by said Borough.

SECTION 6: That GRANTEE shall be governed by all legal ordinances of a general nature now in force or hereafter enacted by said Borough, not inconsistent with this Grant and nothing herein shall be construed as granting an exclusive franchise for use of the public streets, alleys and places of said Borough.

SECTION 7: That any ordinance or part of ordinance of said Borough conflicting with the provisions hereof be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as same conflicts with this ordinance.

SECTION 8: It is hereby understood and agreed that neither the purpose nor intent of the obligation of this contract, if and when approved by the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is such as to impair or in any wise affect the exercise by said Commission of any of the powers vested in it by the Public Service Company Law, approved July 26, 1913.

SECTION 9: That GRANTEE shall pay, upon presentation of bill therefore, the cost of printing and publishing this ordinance and shall file with the Clerk of Council of said

The State Regent, Miss Frances

Maher, of Kane, was a highly pleasing

speaker and after expressing her

pleasure at the opportunity to be present on this occasion, highly complimented the local court on their growth and accomplishments during the three short years of the existence of their organization. The speaker said the Catholic Daughters of America were first organized twenty years ago, the first court in Pennsylvania being organized twelve years ago.

Today there are 81 courts in Pennsylvania with a total membership of 25,000, while in the United States proper there are 800 separate courts with a membership of 150,000. She said it was the aim of the state organization, of which she had been an officer the past six years, to enroll every Catholic woman in the state in this splendid society which has for its object the advancement of the things worth while in every community, the alleviation of distress and suffering and the inculcation of the principles of true American citizenship to the end that the idea of the founders of our great government, that all men are created free and equal, shall be exemplified and carried out in the daily life of all of America's loyal

in the swift repair of damaged areas in the extraordinary extent of recovery despite all difficulties.

"So great has been the progress that it is not too much to say that the whole aspect of affairs would instantly change, if only means could be found to dispel the fear and apprehension which is the barrier to accord and to give a sound basis for the confidence which all desire."

The secretary of state said it was clear that eventual conditions are not to be found in artificial arrangements, but it was in the disposition of the people that count.

"It is idle to talk of proscribing war unless the people are intense in maintaining peace," he added. "You cannot maintain peace, of course, who will supply, who will control, who will direct?"

Mr. Hughes declared that those who create a public sentiment which makes this difficult for honorable statesmen to find ways of practicable adjustment of international problems were worse offenders than intriguing diplomats.

WOMAN HELPER WANTED

Philadelphia, Pa., May 16.—Rev. John T. Davis, prohibition director for Pennsylvania, is seriously considering the appointment of a woman as assistant state prohibition director.

The appointment of a woman to fill the vacant post hinges only on finding the right woman. The director so far has been unable to find a woman to fill the rigid requirements for her wants one with executive ability, tact and experience in handling large masses of correspondence and statistics and one with a pleasing personality.

The salary will be $8,000 a year. Should the appointment be made Director Davis would add another

DOCTORS COMING ALONG FINELY

We are very much pleased to be able to report that our medical friends, Drs. Mauk, Woolridge and Woodside, who are today celebrating the first week of their incarceration in the Clearfield hospital as the result of injuries sustained in the automobile wreck in which they figured, are all three getting along finely.

They are not only able to sit up and take nourishment but are arguing with their nurses and attending physicians about the efficacy, effect and necessity of the nasty medicines they are ordering into them betimes.

In fact all three are again beginning to act as much like real human beings as a doctor can be expected to be when sick, and are now on the highroad to recovery one and all.

Dr. Woolridge expects to leave the hospital for his home today, but Messrs. Mauk and Woodside must remain at the hospital for some little time yet.

The duties of the assistant prohibition director would be substantially those of the director and in the absence of Director Davis she would be in full charge of the state's prohibition enforcement work.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for all ailments common to women. It has been used for such troubles as irregular periods, and thousands of women have found relief as did Mrs. Galt. By taking this splendid medicine.

If you are suffering from irregularity, painful times, nervousness, headache, backache or nervousness, you should at once begin to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is excellent to strengthen the system, and help to perform its functions with ease and regularity.

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Fight Kidneys and Help Nerveless Irritating Urine

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The acid from the stomach passes on to the bladder, irritates the bladder, and causes a burning, scalding sensation when you urinate. The sufferer in constant pain. The water passes sometimes with a burning sensation and is very profuse. Again there is difficulty in voiding.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is annoying and sometimes painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of salt water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

It gives you a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

The Search for Power

While millions of dollars are being spent in developing the power of gigantic Niagara and other water falls, millions of horse power are wasted as a result of imperfect automobile lubrication.

Why be a party to this colossal economic crime? Is it consistent to complain about the cost of power when it is being squandered with every turn of the wheels?

Begin today, in fact and in principle, with Waverly All Pennsylvania Motor Oils. They are clean, powerful and efficient, refined by Waverly exclusively from Pennsylvania paraffine crude, acknowledgedly the best in the world.

Non-acid-treated, as are asphalt crude products which constitute 95% of the auto lubricant supply, Waverly Motor Oils are free from destructive chemical elements and resist thinning effect of high temperatures to the maximum.

They form a perfect film between frictioning surfaces, seal piston rings and conserve power. They circulate and splash effectively in all temperatures and resist dilution.

Of the same high standards of excellence are Waverly Auto Greases, for transmission, chassis and differential. Waverly means less repairs, more power and longer motor life.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 17.—The House today passed a resolution calling upon Auditor General Lewis to furnish the Legislature with final information which might serve to clear up the existing revenue situation.

Under the terms of the resolution Lewis is asked to furnish information showing:

First: Probable revenue in the next two years.

Second: Apparent expenditures necessary under existing appropriation.

Third: Exact amount of inherited appropriation liabilities.

Fourth: Amount of these appropriations liabilities which could probably be lapsed.

The information which Lewis was called upon to furnish relates to the same subject included in Governor Pinch's budget, which was given to the Legislature several months ago.

The resolution was regarded here as the first step in straightening out the tangle.

Newburgh, N. Y., May 16.—Strict enforcement of the prohibition law throughout the United States will be the "unquestioned policy" of the Harding administration, and President Harding is convinced that it will be the attitude of succeeding administrations, according to a letter from the White House made public here today by Wesley Wait.

Wait had written to President Harding suggesting that Federal action be taken against Governor Smith of New York, and members of the Legislature who voted to repeal the state prohibition enforcement act, if it is signed by Governor Smith.

President Harding, in commenting upon action taken by various states against the Federal prohibition law, expressed fear of a conflict between federal authority and state rights.

The text of President Harding's letter follows:

"Pending the approval of the Cavalier bill by Governor Smith, this matter is hardly to be regarded as having reached the stage where any federal authority is called upon for a determination of national policies. With much of what you say I am fully in accord."

CHILD IS BORN TO WOMAN ACCUSED IN POISONING CASE

Newark, N. J., May 17.—A boy was born today to Mrs. Mary Creighton, who with her husband John, is under indictment on a charge of murdering her brother, Charles R. Avery. The birth occurred at the Newark City Hospital.

Next month the Creightons go on trial being accused of having fed arsenic in small doses to young Avery until he died in order to secure his insurance. The bodies of Creighton's parents have been exhumed and are being examined for traces of poison. Preliminary examination show that the elder Creightons did not die of causes cited in the death certificate.

NEW SCHEDULE OF MAIL TRAIN TO BE BIG IMPROVEMENT

The Pennsylvania Railroad, The Progress is informed very reliably intends to make a new train schedule which will be of great benefit to the business men of Clearfield who now have considerable difficulty in answering morning mail before the return of the afternoon mail train. The new schedule affects only the first train leaving Tyrone in the morning and the train now leaving here at 1:05 p.m. It will make a difference of fifty minutes more in the time of arrival of the mail and the time of departure of the afternoon train.

Instead of leaving Tyrone at 8:20 a.m. as at present, the train will leave at 8:05. It will not stop at any flag stations enroute, in fact be a fast train, and will arrive here at 10:00 a.m. The express train which follows the regular mail and passenger train will make all the flag stops.

The afternoon train for Tyrone will leave here at 1:23 p.m. instead of 1:05 as at present and will arrive in Tyrone in time to make all connections. This train will not make any flag stops either.

Only one stop will be made in Clearfield by either of these trains, according to present plans, and that at the regular depot. Other trains, including the express train will stop at Market street as heretofore and other flag stops as well.

DO NOT OVERLOOK THE COMMUNITY SING AND MUSIC TONIGHT

Although the weather is quite cool it is not going to deter a big percentage of the citizenry of Clearfield from full participation in the community Music Week program this evening back of and in the High School. Promptly at 7:15 o'clock the Legion Band will be on the job at the rear of the High School to furnish the music for the community sing which will be under the direction of Professor H. Clark Thayer, director of the band and head of the Susquehanna College of Music. Everybody knows what Mr. Thayer can get out of the band by the waving of his magic baton and no doubt he will be equally successful with the crowd of singers.

The program of the events in the High School, printed in The Progress yesterday, insures a big crowd for the indoor entertainment as every number is by an artist in his or her line and the assembling of such an aggregation of musicians is proof positive that only early comers can get a good seat.

Friday evening will wind up a most successful observation of Music Week with the presentation of the Glee Club play at the High School.

The Girls' Glee Club play, under direction of Mrs. Hopkins, comes off Friday evening. Be sure you have your seat reserved in plenty of time. "A Wild Rose" is a clever little opera you are sure to enjoy. Every number is interesting, you can't afford to miss a single one.

Some of the leading characters are: Beatrice McDowell, as Rose McCloud; Elizabeth Wilson as "Bobbie," the Butters; Mary Jane Overy as Mrs. Fussy, housekeeper for Rose; Louella Shedd as Madame Sewers, a French dressmaker. Many clever maids, beautiful debutantes—and a cat.

This play will be the final event of Music Week. Naturally you will not wish to miss it—especially if you have attended the other events thru-out the week.

All the roses used in the play were made by the girls of the Glee Club.

W.S. METHODISTS LET CONTRACT FOR BEAUTIFUL CHURCH

The building committee of the West Side Methodist church at a meeting called for the purpose last evening awarded the contract for the erection of their new church to Carl V. Hobaugh, of Butler, Pa. The contract calls for the completion of the church within one year.

The work of tearing down the old church will be begun next week and as soon as that is accomplished work on the handsome new structure will be started.

During the time the new church is being built church services will be held in a tabernacle to be erected by the West Side congregation somewhere on Martin street in the vicinity of the church property.

The contract price for the erection of the church up to the plastering, but not including the plastering and all the finishing that follows is said to be $27,500 in round figures and the completed job will approximate $125,000.

CONTRACT TO BUILD MOOSE TEMPLE LET TO ERIE BUILDER

The Trustees of the local Loyal Order of Moose at a meeting held last evening awarded the contract for the erection of the new Moose Temple to Contractor Stanley M. Stadden, of Erie, Pa.

The new building, which is to be of red brick, steel and concrete and entirely fireproof, will be erected on the Moose lot on the south side of Market street just mid-way between Third and Fourth streets. The building will be two stories and basement and will be 70x100 feet in size.

The ground floor will provide a room for the Clearfield post office, which has already been leased for a ten-year period by the Postoffice Department, with a store room alongside. The second floor will contain offices, while the basement will house

St. Josephs, Mich., May 17.—Benjamin Funnell, the man who would be King, reigned with regal pomp and splendor in Shiloh Palace in the House of David. The story of the life of this alleged twentieth century seraglio was given today by a twenty year old girl, Lavina Johnson Heiger, who said she had been a spotter and detective, reporting directly to Benjamin on discretions of his flock.

Surrounded by his harem of "virgins" and seven angels, which is being investigated by Judge Harry Binkeman, he lived a life of luxurious ease and splendor. Food was served on plates of gold. Rare liquors were poured to suit his foods and tastes in goblets encrusted with emeralds and rubies by young girl attendants. Trained hula hula dancers furnished entertainment at his bidding. His long grey beard was combed by a maid-in-waiting. His bath was prepared, his clothes carefully arranged and every want anticipated by the score of elect "sisters" who vied with each other for the honor of administering to the personal wants of the self-styled "Brother of Jesus Christ."

The King's rooms were furnished with rich tapestry, couches and divans. Valuable paintings were on the walls. "Benjamin seldom slept at night," Lavina said. "There was always a light in his room. He said he did his work then, prepared his prophecies. He slept in the day time. The spirits were abroad in the night and would inspire his work," he said.

Curwensville Nurse Is Again Decorated By French Government

By L. J. LAPORTE.

Curwensville, Pa., May 17.—That great nations are not unappreciative of good work and not forgetful of assistance was again proven last week when the French government conferred a much coveted decoration on Miss Mary E. Mallon of this town.

Miss Mallon is well known here where her parents reside and deserves all the credit that has been given her. Following is the article taken from the Washington "Evening Star" of an issue of last week from which we glean our information:

"Miss Mary E. Mallon of Curwensville, Pa., was decorated with the 'Medaille de la Reconnaissance Francaise' by M. Jules Jusserand, French ambassador at the French embassy, 4300 yesterday afternoon."

"Ambassador Jusserand eulogized the long and splendid service of Miss Mallon in France during the war, especially that of the training of the French nurses in the training school of the American hospital of Paris."

"Miss Mallon served five years in France. During 1915, she was assistant director of the American ambulance hospital in Neuilly, France. Later taking the position of superintendent of the American hospital of Paris, she occupied that position until 1921, when she returned to this country, and has since been in this city engaged in various nursing activities, chief of which is the 'Society for the Control of Cancer'."

"In 1917, Miss Mallon was decorated with the French 'Medaille d'Honneur' for work with the French at the American ambulance hospital."

"Among those present at the presentation of the decoration were former ambassador to France, Mr. Hugh Campbell Wallace, Mrs. Roger Woods Bliss, Lady Jebb, Baron and Baroness Korff, Admiral and Mrs. Van Ruyven, and Mrs. R. K. Tyler. Later in the evening Mrs. Bliss gave a dinner in honor of Miss Mallon."

No Clue To Man Who Shot Italian Store Man At Johnsonburg

No clue has been found as to the identity of the person who stepped out to within three feet of Frank Galenzio of Johnsonburg, and fired three shots into his body, inflicting wounds that will probably result fatally. The shooting occurred just as the evening train on the Pennsylvania pulled into Johnsonburg Tuesday night and the theory is advanced that the assailant jumped off the train as it slowed down ran over to where Galenzio was sitting before his store, fired the three shots, turned back to the train, boarded it and made away before any pursuit was organized.

One of the shots struck Galenzio in the left hand, another broke the bone in his left arm, and the third entered the stomach, passing through the body.

There is no theory advanced as to the cause for the shooting.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kittelberger at their home in East End on Tuesday night last, a son.

Messrs. John and Emory Gearhart and Ed P. Dufton, of Clearfield, and Carl Patchin, of Burnside, are up in Potter county on a trout fishing excursion.

RADIO FANS WILL HAVE A CHANCE TO WIN PRIZES

Philadelphia, May 16.—Widespread interest has been created throughout Pennsylvania in the radio test to be made on the talk to be broadcasted by Charles M. DeForest or "Health Armor" from Chicago on Thursday night. It is the purpose to learn if this talk can be heard in every state in the country.

There is additional interest for Pennsylvanians because of the prizes of $25, $10 and $5 offered by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, 10 S. 13th street, Philadelphia, for the best reports from radio fans on this speech.

The talk will be broadcast from WDP Thursday night at 9:30 p. m. central standard time, or 10:30 p. m. eastern standard time, or 11:30 p. m. eastern daylight saving time. The text to be submitted in this test must be mailed within 24 hours after the broadcasting.

A preliminary musical program from WDP beginning at 10 p. m. eastern standard time, will give operators a chance to tune in.

Fans can assist in this all-state test by notifying their newspapers of the results they secure.

Dr. Thomas E. Finigan, state superintendent of Public Instructions, in accepting a place on the committee of judges says:

"I shall be glad to be of any service possible in connection with the radio contest which is in the interest of better health among our children."

C. D. Of A. Third Annual Banquet A Pronounced Success In Every Way

The third annual banquet of Clearfield county Catholic Daughters of America, held at the Dimeling hotel last evening, was a pronounced success in every way. The large dining room was taxed to capacity by the members and their guests present.

Mrs. John E. Mulrooney, grand regent of the court, proved to be a capable hostess and handled the after dinner program in a most acceptable manner.

The following highly interesting program was carried through to a successful conclusion:

ABIDING PEACE IS ASSURED SAYS SEC'TY HUGHES IN ADDRESS AT WASHINGTON LAST EVENING; ALL CLOUDS ROLL AWAY

Washington, May 16.—America has "every assurance of abiding peace" so far as "our relations with other people are concerned," Secretary Hughes said tonight in an address before the National Conference of Social Work.

"The clouds which two years ago darkened the Far Eastern sky have dissipated," he said "and to the disappointment of those who make bitterness the part of patriotism we have been able to associate the great powers of the Pacific in a friendly accord, supported by mutual confidence, while at the same time we have carefully preserved the sound American tradition of freedom from our alliance and the principle of equality of opportunity."

Mr. Hughes said this had been accomplished by keeping "a disarmament of thought" and that the Washington arms conference had "managed to scrap distrust as well as the vessels of war," and to end wasteful pacification, "which spoils not security but suspicion."

"Today notwithstanding the gravity of unsettled issues," he continued, "we find throughout the world ample reasons for encouragement in the efforts to remove the economic evils following the great war in the exhibition of enhanced industrial capacity,"

LUCAS NOT GUILTY BUT MUST PAY THE PROSECUTION COST

The jury which heard the evidence in the case of Com. vs. Wendell Lucas charged with involuntary man slaughter, was charged by Judge Bell and retired to take up their deliberations at 10 o'clock this morning. They returned their verdict shortly before noon today which found the defendant not guilty but directed that he must pay the costs in the case.

Fourth Ward Pupils To Shine Tomorrow Night In Music Presentation

The Fourth Ward School will add its contribution to Music Week by giving what promises to be a splendid program at the Fourth Ward school building Friday afternoon.

The program should prove to be more than ordinarily interesting and attractive. Therefore if you have a child in the school or are a friend or lover of children you should be there you will enjoy every minute.

The numbers to be given are all taken from the Nollis Dunn song books and are songs the kiddies have learned throughout the year. Each grade will be represented and those who attend will be privileged to listen to some of the prettiest songs ever published for children's voices.

Following is the program:

PART I

Chorus: "The Postman"

Jake Lippert, Man Manon Dimmick Very Seriously Injured and May Lose Limb

ALL EIGHT INJURED

One of the most serious railroad accidents to occur in this section in recent months happened shortly after 8 o'clock this morning on the 1900 York Central railroad in the deep cut at the "Y" at the junction at Clearfield Creek.

As a result thereof, six members of the section crew of Foreman Joseph Augustine, out of Dimmick station, are patients at the Clearfield hospital suffering from injuries of various degrees, while the other three also suffered minor injuries but did not come to the hospital.

The names of the injured men are: Jake Lippert, aged 32.
Tony Cappodano, aged 28.
Tony George, Jr., aged 37.
Eugene Caruso, aged 28.
Edward Hamy, aged 19.
Preston Hancey, aged 19.

This morning Section Foreman Augustine and nine men, left Clearfield on a gasoline railroad motor on their way down the line to the Junction, where track repairs required their attention. They reached the cut at the "Y" traveling at a fair rate of speed and as they were about half way through the cut the work train out of Clearfield happened along heading up through the cut to negotiate the "Y". The engine was at the rear of the work train and as the front end of the work train rounded the curve at the cut it crashed right into the motor car, which was heading a flat on which the men were riding.

The men of the section crew were unable to see the train backing toward them until it was right upon them and while two or three men on the motor were able to jump before the two cars struck, those on the flat car in the rear of the motor did not have time enough to do so and were caught in the wreckage as the cars smashed together.

Worn from the hospital this afternoon is to the effect that Lippert is the only one of the men seriously hurt. He has a serious head wound and a badly crushed and broken leg, which it is thought will have to be amputated. The injuries of the others consist of minor cuts and bruises and they will soon be able to leave the hospital.

Theodore Hancey, Harvey Hens and Samuel Olson, with Foreman Augustine, were the other men of the crew. The foreman had left the motor a short distance above the point where the wreck occurred.

Much Speculation On Cause Of Breaking Of Society Engagement

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The wreck of a romance between a young beautiful capital society maid and a British naval officer had Washington society buzzing today with speculation and gossip.

Miss Nancy Hoyt, the bride to be, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hoyt, was reported at her parents' home under the care of a physician. Lieutenant F. Wiseman-Clark of the Royal Navy said his parents were in New York preparing to sail back to England.

The wedding was to have occurred last night. Many of the guests had come from great distances and the Hoyt home on Rhode Island avenue was very beautifully decorated and workmen were putting up awnings from the street to the house to protect guests from threatening showers when the wedding was called off.

Lincoln's Attitude.
"Mr. Lincoln said at the time when slavery was still a recognized, established and accepted institution" throughout a considerable part of the Union that the nation could not exist half slave and half free.
"That expression has been accepted ever since as presenting the obvious and conclusive logic of the situation which then confronted the Union.
"Certainly it would have been still more impressive if there had been at that time a constitutional provision against slavery as there is now a constitutional provision against the liquor traffic.
"The nation has deliberately, after many years of consideration, adopted the present policy, which is written into the Eighteenth Amendment. It is the law of the land and of every state within the Union. So long as it remains the national policy, there can be only one course for the national government to pursue.
"That is to use every means to make effective the law passed in compliance with this constitutional mandate.
"Sworn To Enforcement.
"To do this will be the unquestioning policy of the present administration, and I may add that I am firmly convinced that it must be the policy of other administrations that shall come hereafter.

"The Executive of the nation and equally the executives of the states are sworn to enforce the Constitution. It is difficult to believe that public approval will ever be given to any other than a policy of fully and literally discharging this duty.
"It does not seem fitting, however, to enter upon a discussion of a situation which has not yet arisen. It will be obvious that many complex and extremely difficult situations must arise if any of the states shall decline to assume their part of the responsibility of maintaining the Constitution and the laws enacted in pursuance of it.
"The states are equipped with police organizations and judicial establishments adequate to deal with such problems. The Federal government is not thus equipped.
"I venture that if by reason of the refusal or failure of any state to discharge its proper duty in such connection, the federal government is at length compelled to enter upon the territory and jurisdiction of the state and to set up those police and judicial authorities which would be required, the most difficult and trying situations would arise.

"More or less conflict between state and federal authorities would seem unavoidable in such circumstances. The impression would be created that the federal government was assuming to interfere with the functions of the states and the distressing results that would ensue readily suggest themselves."

OBITUARY

Boyd Lester Smith, son of Mrs. Lizzie Smith, died at his home in Glen Ridge April 28. The deceased was born Aug. 31, 1898 and spent all his life in this vicinity. He had been failing in health for the past year. He was a member of the Baptist church and possessed a large circle of friends. He is survived by his widowed mother, one brother, P. D. Smith, and one sister, Mrs. John Evans, both of Glen Ridge. Funeral services were held from his home, Rev. Conely of Curwensville, officiating, interment in Thompson cemetery.

THE BOY THAT FAILED

FATHER had planned a brilliant future for him. Mother's high hopes for his success were supported ably by her excellent training in him.
But the boy was a bitter disappointment. He was being educated steadily by his schoolmaster, was dull, listless at the time, "fat sick" most of the time, never had "pe" for play nor ambition for his future.
Father had about given himself up. Poor mother's heartstrings were near the breaking point. Evidently, it was not to be.
Then an old friend of the family—a man successful in every way—came to the boy's rescue. "The father is proud of the boy who is a dead joy to his mother."
I was simply a case of poor digestion, sluggish liver and intestinal action gradually causing nervous and poisoning the system.
Knowing from experience that Buchanan's Pills were harmless as well as efficient, I tried them. They made the bowels regular. They made the liver well—as they have been of other children, and grown-ups, too, who suffered from like disorders.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. G.

The Legislature at Harrisburg and Governor Pinchot appear to be having a "monkey and parrot" time endeavoring to raise funds enough by the taxation route to keep the old Keystone ship of state off the rocks of bankruptcy the coming two years. Everytime some law maker "has it an idea" and selects some particular line of business or product from which to enact tribute toward the common end, representatives of the business or line affected immediately get up on their hind legs and howl out, "Don't tax us. We are paying too much now; hit the other fellow."

Therefore when a local gentleman who keeps his eye on affairs hands us the following tearful appeals which he "swears" he found in an envelop addressed, but neither stamped or mailed, to old Giffy, we feel like giving them publicity as sort of direction to old Diogenes and his search for that "honest" farmer. Read what these virtuous fellows have to tell the Governor:

As a farmer, I wish to make a protest against the treatment of the farmer in Pennsylvania. Are not the farmers good citizens? Why treat us as if we were weaklings and unable to assume our share of the burden of citizenship?

It is necessary for Pennsylvania to raise an additional twenty million dollars by taxation, for the schools. I understand that a large part of this money will go to the rural schools, yet no one at Harrisburg has had the decency to suggest that we farmers be allowed to contribute a share of his money. We have a part in shaping legislation; we like to choose officers, and to direct policies, and therefore, we demand the right to pay more taxes. The farmers are just as able to perform the duties of citizenship as the manufacturers or the coal operators. We are tired of being spoken of as if we should be spared the burdens, just like children.

Tax wheat or corn or potatoes or any other farm product—but tax us. We will pass it on to the consumer. Permit us to do more toward the support of government, so that we will not feel so much as if we were imposing on others.

Yours for more taxes,
HIRAM HAYCROFT
That first letter is bad enough but this one is even worse:

Dear Governor:
I am a Coal Operator and I have a rather large business. The legislature at Harrisburg is trying to find some means of raising an additional twenty million dollars by taxation. There has been no decision yet as to who will pay the tax. The farmers claim it is their right to do so because they feel that they have been slighted in their respect in the past. The manufacturers maintain a lobby at Harrisburg working toward an increase in their own taxes. In fact, all interests are insisting that they be allowed to assume this additional burden. This is all very well and goes credit to their good citizenship, but who is going to see that the coal operators get their rights? If there are more taxes to pay, I, as a coal operator, insist on my right to pay my share. The automobile owners are trying to work themselves into position of paying almost the entire increase, and it is time for the rest of us to protest. Why let these upstarts assume all the credit for being good tax paying citizens?

I am writing this letter because I know that if the coal operators do not make a kick and a vigorous one, they will be passed by entirely and all the taxes will be assumed by these self-seeking, political wire-pullers who would like to contribute more than their fellow-man to the expense of government.

Yours for more taxes

The Governor and the members of the House of Representatives were very generous to the ex-service men in voting the bonus. But the bonus can not yet be paid. The funds are not available. The action of the legislature in passing the bill and the Governor's signature will simply provide the machinery for paying the bonus in case the citizens of the State approve the $35,000,000 bond issue to be voted on at an election. Meantime, every fellow who voted for this bill, can go before the service man with a clear record.

The West Side Methodists and the Moose seem to have the real spirit of Clearfield. When organizations in other towns are holding off on expansion and development these organizations go right ahead with plans of a gigantic size, considering their financial strength. Together they will spend over a quarter of a million dollars.

STILL IN THE UNION

President Harding has written a letter that will make Americans think. He points out the perils in such acts as the proposed repeal of New York's State prohibition laws and reminds that State that it still is a part of the American Union.

The letter may, of course, have its political angles. Governor Smith, of New York, is a powerful figure in the Democratic Party, one of the hopes of the wet Democrats and beloved of wets everywhere. He is accounted presidential timber. President Harding suddenly has swung the White House spotlight on him. From the Republican viewpoint it might not be at all a bad thing to gum the rum label on an outstanding Democrat and on the Democratic Party as the champion of booze.

Putting aside, however, possible political considerations, the Harding letter states a case and draws an issue simply, bluntly and firmly. New York's Legislature has voted that the State need not enforce prohibition.

The people of the United States, of which New York is a part, have decreed liquor shall go. In essence, we have the State's rights issue of sixty years ago over again.

The Eighteenth Amendment is a part of our organic law, for better or for worse. The people and the Governor of the State of New York are reminded that, after years of consideration and by deliberate act, "the present policy was written into the Eighteenth Amendment." It has become "the law of the land and of every State within the Union." That it will be enforced in New York, and even New York City, is the President's pledge, for he says:

So long as it remains the national policy there can be only one course for the National Government to pursue. That is, to use every means to make effective the law passed in compliance with this constitutional mandate. To do this will be the unquestioning policy of the present Administration.

The President fears a conflict of authority between State and Federal officials, and these fears are not ill-grounded. But he is on firm ground when he says:

The Executive of the Nation and equally the Executives of the States are sworn to enforce the Constitution.

The oath-taker cannot swear partial support to the Constitution. The Eighteenth Amendment is one of its parts. It must be all or nothing, else the swearer is a man forsworn.

started, throaty cry—a hoarse sound of astonishment and surprise and simultaneously a strange, a phenomenal thing occurred. An unseen hand appeared to strike down both Mallow and his accomplice where they stood, and it smote them, moreover, with appalling force and terrifying effect.

The men understood vaguely what had afflicted them, for they had seen Gray lift one hand from the wheel, and out of that hand they had seen a stream of liquid, or a jet of aqueous vapor, leap.

Gray squeezed again the rubber bulb that he had carried in his hand these last several miles, ejecting from it the last few drops of its contents, then he opened the car door, stepped out of it and stood over his straggling victims.

Gray fell to work promptly. The little of cream he had begged from Ma Briskow he now put to use. With this soothing liquid he first washed out their eyes, the membranes of which were raw and spongy, and, scrupulously sensitive to light, then he bandaged them as best he could with compressed, wet lint.

"You'll breathe easier as time goes on," he announced. "You'll cough a good deal for a few days, but where you are going that won't disturb anybody. Your eyes will get well, too, if you take care of them as directed. But, meanwhile, let me warn you against lifting those bandages. Advise me as they dry out and I'll tell them again."

A blessed relief stole over the unfortunate pair; they were still sick and weak, but in a short time the acuteness of their suffering had diminished sufficiently for Gray to help them into the back seat of his car and resume his journey.

Within a few minutes of Gray's arrival at Briskow's town was not with the story, for he drove down the brightly lighted main street and stopped in front of the most populous cafe. There he called loudly for a policeman, and when the latter elbowed his way through the crowd, Gray told him in plain language of all the horrors of his experience to electricity everybody.

Nothing like this had occurred during the brief, busy life of the town. It was a dramatic incident, but the manner in which this capable stranger had handled it and the assistance he had brought upon the scene, appeared more to the residents than to the anger of danger. Admiration for him displaced indignation at the high-jackers; crime for vengeance upon them were drowned in noisy appreciation of their captor.

CHAPTER VII

Miss Good Plays Angel

COVERLY was at the station when Gray's train arrived at Dallas the next morning. He was suffering intense excitement, and he deluged his friend with flood of questions, meanwhile, fearful of the morning papers, all of which appeared to have devoted much space to the Ranger episode. He begged Gray, and he pumped his hand; he laughed and he chattered; he insisted upon hearing the whole story without delay. On their way uptown, the returning hero gave it to him, together with Gus Briskow's check.

"Speaking of your commissions, how am I going to pay you—not for the sale you made, although I wouldn't have done as well, but for the loss you saved the firm and for the risk you ran?"

"You may give me anything you see fit," Gray declared, "and I shall not embarrass you by refusing. On the contrary, go as strongly as you possibly can."

Coverly actually appeared to be relieved at this statement, but he inquired, curiously: "Why have you got up your sleeve? You don't need money."

"Obviously not. But I know a needy object of charity; a worthy case, I assure you. I can scarcely call him a friend, but he is still an agreeable companion—a man at once capable, extravagant, entertaining, disipated. Your money shall go to him, and with every dollar of it that he squanders, there shall arise an earnest oration to you."

Would-be nullificationists have that to consider if their oaths mean anything to them.

Whether or not a State has an enforcement act, the will of Congress, by authority of the Constitution, runs across State lines and may not be defied. Refusal to enact concurrent legislation fringes upon nullification. Nullification amounts to passive defiance. That is something for Governor Smith to think about as he ponders, To sign or not to sign. It is something for the Pennsylvania legislators, who have refused to appropriate money to make enforcement law effective, to consider.

Whatever side angles and portents the President's letter may have, it drags some naked facts and ugly possibilities into the daylight.—Public Ledger.

ORDINANCE NO. 38 OF WESTOVER BOROUGH

Authorizing the Penn Public Service Corporation, its successors, lessees or assigns to construct, replace and maintain poles, wires and fixtures in the public streets, alleys and places of the Borough of Westover, Clearfield County, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of distributing electrical energy.

BE IT ENACTED AND ORDAINED by the Burgess and Borough Council of the Borough of Westover and it is hereby enacted and ordained by the authority of the same.

SECTION 1: That the privilege be and is hereby granted to the Penn Public Service Corporation, its successors, lessees or assigns, (hereinafter called GRANTEE), to construct, replace and maintain such poles, wires and fixtures upon, over, through, along and across the public streets, alleys and places of the said Borough, as may be necessary for the purpose of transmitting and distributing electrical energy in and through said Borough for any purpose for which it may be now or hereafter used.

SECTION 2: That all poles erected under the provisions of this ordinance shall be reasonably straight and erected at locations designated by proper officers of said Borough. That all cross arms for the suspension of wires shall be placed not less than twenty (20) feet above the grade of the street, except by permission of the Borough.

SECTION 3: That when the public streets, alleys and places of said Borough are used for the erection of poles, wires and fixtures under the provisions of this ordinance where where disturbed shall be replaced by GRANTEE in as nearly as practicable disturbed shall be replaced by erection thereon of said poles, wires and fixtures.

SECTION 4: That GRANTEE shall be ready to furnish electrical energy in said Borough on or before July 1st, 1923.

SECTION 5: That GRANTEE shall keep and hold said Borough free and harmless from all damages that may arise out of injury to person or property due to the default, carelessness or negligence of GRANTEE in the exercise of this grant, provided GRANTEE shall have the right to defend all suits against said Borough arising therefrom and shall not be liable for any judgment unless due notice of the action and opportunity to defend same shall have been given GRANTEE by said Borough.

SECTION 6: That GRANTEE shall be governed by all legal ordinances of a general nature now in force or hereafter enacted by said Borough, not inconsistent with this Grant and nothing herein shall be construed as granting an exclusive franchise for use of the public streets, alleys and places of said Borough.

SECTION 7: That any ordinance or part of ordinance of said Borough conflicting with the provisions hereof be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as same conflicts with this ordinance.

SECTION 8: It is hereby understood and agreed that neither the purpose nor intent of the obligation of this contract, if and when approved by the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is such as to impair or in any wise affect the exercise by said Commission of any of the powers vested in it by the Public Service Company Law, approved July 26, 1913.

SECTION 9: That GRANTEE shall pay, upon presentation of bill therefore, the cost of printing and publishing this ordinance and shall file with the Clerk of Council of said

The State Regent, Miss Frances

Maher, of Kane, was a highly pleasing

speaker and after expressing her

pleasure at the opportunity to be present on this occasion, highly complimented the local court on their growth and accomplishments during the three short years of the existence of their organization. The speaker said the Catholic Daughters of America were first organized twenty years ago, the first court in Pennsylvania being organized twelve years ago.

Today there are 81 courts in Pennsylvania with a total membership of 25,000, while in the United States proper there are 800 separate courts with a membership of 150,000. She said it was the aim of the state organization, of which she had been an officer the past six years, to enroll every Catholic woman in the state in this splendid society which has for its object the advancement of the things worth while in every community, the alleviation of distress and suffering and the inculcation of the principles of true American citizenship to the end that the idea of the founders of our great government, that all men are created free and equal, shall be exemplified and carried out in the daily life of all of America's loyal in the swift repair of damaged areas in the extraordinary extent of recovery despite all difficulties.

"So great has been the progress that it is not too much to say that the whole aspect of affairs would instantly change, if only means could be found to dispel the fear and apprehension which is the barrier to accord and to give a sound basis for the confidence which all desire."

The secretary of state said it was clear that eventual conditions are not to be found in artificial arrangements, but it was in the disposition of the people that count.

"It is idle to talk of proscribing war unless the people are intense in maintaining peace," he added. "You cannot maintain peace, of course, who will supply, who will control, who will direct?"

Mr. Hughes declared that those who create a public sentiment which makes this difficult for honorable statesmen to find ways of practicable adjustment of international problems were worse offenders than intriguing diplomats.

DOCTORS COMING ALONG FINELY

We are very much pleased to be able to report that our medical friends, Drs. Mauk, Woolridge and Woodside, who are today celebrating the first week of their incarceration in the Clearfield hospital as the result of injuries sustained in the automobile wreck in which they figured, are all three getting along finely.

They are not only able to sit up and take nourishment but are arguing with their nurses and attending physicians about the efficacy, effect and necessity of the nasty medicines they are ordering into them betimes.

In fact all three are again beginning to act as much like real human beings as a doctor can be expected to be when sick, and are now on the highroad to recovery one and all.

Dr. Woolridge expects to leave the hospital for his home today, but Messrs. Mauk and Woodside must remain at the hospital for some little time yet.

distinction to the one gained when he appointed the first woman prohibition agent in the country, Mrs. Della Lewis.

The duties of the assistant prohibition director would be substantially those of the director and in the absence of Director Davis she would be in full charge of the state's prohibition enforcement work.

Arrangements are being perfected for the holding of the annual Memorial service which is generally held on the Sunday prior to May 30th. This service, for years back, has been held especially for the surviving veterans of the first war and their descendants, but all patriotic organizations have been invited. The minister and the church have not as yet been selected, but will be given out to the public within the next few days. This special service does not tend toward eliminating any and all who wish to add their presence in the congregation.

WOMAN SO BLUE SHE CRIED

Because of ill health—Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Burlington, Iowa. "I used to dread the time for my monthly period as it came every five or six days, and was so painful that I could not do my work. I would have to lie in bed for several days, and I have since found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now well and happy, and I can truly say that I am a new woman."—Mrs. J. E. Smith.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for all ailments common to women. It is used for such troubles as irregularity, and thousands of women have found relief as did Mrs. Galt. By taking this splendid medicine.

If you are suffering from irregularity, painful times, nervousness, headache, backache or nervousness, you should at once begin to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is excellent to strengthen the system, and help to perform its functions with ease and regularity.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The acid that passes into the bladder, irritates and causes a burning, scalding sensation, and up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to urinate two or three times during the day. The sufferer in constant pain. The water passes sometimes with a burning sensation and is very profuse. Again there is difficulty in voiding.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is annoying and sometimes painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin by taking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

After you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

MRS. KERIN HOREY

PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Annie Mooney Horey, widow of the late Kerin Horey, and a respected resident of Clearfield for many years is dead at her home on Cherry street. Mrs. Horey, who is about 66 years of age, had been an invalid for the past five or six years and her death, which occurred Tuesday evening, May 15th, at 11:20 o'clock, was due to a complication of diseases.

She is survived by three sons and

WINDSDALE TO ERECT NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

The school board of Morris township, Clearfield county, at a meeting yesterday, gave final approval to the plan prepared by Architect A. W. Albion, for a modern ten-room school building to replace the one destroyed by fire last year.

The building is to be strictly fireproof, the stairs, windows and joints to be of steel. The surface floors are to be of granite. There will be no woodwork whatsoever within the building, aside from the doors. The heating and plumbing will be the best in school house efficiency. The natural lighting is unilateral and the building will be wired for electricity.

The Search for Power

While millions of dollars are being spent in developing the power of gigantic Niagara and other water falls, millions of horse power are wasted as a result of imperfect automobile lubrication.

Why be a party to this colossal economic crime? Is it consistent to complain about the cost of power when it is being squandered with every turn of the wheels?

Begin today, in fact and in principle, with Waverly All Pennsylvania Motor Oils. They are clean, powerful and efficient, refined by Waverly exclusively from Pennsylvania paraffine crude, acknowledgedly the best in the world.

Non-acid-treated, as are asphalt crude products which constitute 95% of the auto lubricant supply, Waverly Motor Oils are free from destructive chemical elements and resist thinning effect of high temperatures to the maximum.

They form a perfect film between frictioning surfaces, seal piston rings and conserve power. They circulate and splash effectively in all temperatures and resist dilution.

Of the same high standards of excellence are Waverly Auto Greases, for transmission, chassis and differential. Waverly means less repairs, more power and longer motor life.
